ALABAMA

The Yellowhammer State

Capital: Montgomery
Area: 51,609 square miles; rank, 29th
Statehood: December 14, 1819; 22nd state

Rich soil, mineral deposits, rivers, and gentle climate attracted man to Alabama. A prosperous agrarian civilization developed in which cotton ruled supreme. King Cotton was dethroned by the boll weevil, to whom, gratefully, a monument was erected in Enterprise. Diversified farming and cattle raising came great industrialization.

Anniston (D-6)—St. Michael and All Angels Episcopal Church is famed for its beautiful interior.

Birmingham (E-4)—55-foot Vulcan reigns atop Red Mountain. Roman god of the forge, he symbolizes the state's steel industry.

1813 U.S. Fort Bowyer and earlier Spanish, French, and British fortifications. After a valiant 18-day defense by Confederate forces, it fell to Union attackers August 23, 1864.

Fort Payne (B-7)—A beautiful area, Little River Canyon, is the deepest gorge east of the Rockies. Manitou Cave and Sequoyah Caverns offer breathtaking subterranean beauty. Gadsden (D-6)—Spectacular Nockalula Falls plunge a foaming 100 feet from a scenic limestone ledge.

Grant (B-5)—Yawning chasms, mammoth stalagmites, a pink stone waterfall are among the features of Cathedral Caverns. Greensboro (G-3)—Magnolia Grove, home of Admiral Hobson, hero of the Merrimac, contains historic mementoes.

Guntersville (C-5)—Lake Guntersville, one of the giant TVA chain, is the scene each spring of thrilling boat races.

Horseshoe Bend National Military Park (F-6)—Site of the battle in which Gen. Andrew Jackson's troops broke the power of the Creek Indian nation.

Huntsville (B-5)—Exhibits at the Space Orientation Center of the George C. Marshall Space Flight Center tell the story of rocketry and space travel.

Muscle Shoals (B-3)—Wilson chain which creates a 650-recreational lakes, and produce Tennessee Valley.

e report of county repre- tive Karl Wiesenbergl last following an inspection of eignty commission rec- and minutes made inter- reading and pointed up important facts

e of these is, we believe, here is no order or record ommission minutes author- the $5000 monthly contri- n to the citizens council i has been going on since ning of the present fiscal starting last July 1. This d lead us to believe that nssion members are not at ertain of the legality of action. Another is the mo- during the last March ing of the commission by ey-general Joe Patterson that the gifts be discontinued.

It died for lack of a second, but nevertheless when the state's chief legal officer makes such a motion it lends sub- stance to the surmise that the gifts may not be permissible under our statutes.

In this layman's humble opin- ion we can't see how they could be without setting a dan- gerous precedent. If public funds can be given to one private organization with no strings attached and no ac- counting required, why couldn't they also be used to build a political machine such as Mis- sissippi has never seen?

And finally, if the 50,000 members of the councils are as dedicated to their cause as state leaders tell us, then we believe their convictions should certainly be strong enough to bring forth sufficient cash in dues and contributions to carry on their work without having to seek a subsidy from the pub- lic treasury.

Chad Dean

Chad Dean, 26, volunteers with the Red Cross and the Andrew Johnson Unit of the Boys and Girls Club. As a child, Dean went to the Andrew Johnson Unit of the Boys and Girls Club. The experience inspired him to go to college, he said. "You should never give up. You can do anything you put your mind to," Dean said. The former Pascagoula Panther spends Friday nights watching his home team play football. Dean received scholarships to attend school at Mississippi Gulf Coast Community College and the University of Arkansas. After receiving his degree in marketing, he moved back to his childhood neighborhood in Pascagoula. "A lot of people move away, but I feel that if more people come back after getting an education they can build the community up and give kids a positive role model," Dean said.

Chad Dean

Chad Dean loves giving back to the community that gave to him. As an administrative assistant at the Red Cross Dean gets to help people every day. He says that helping the elderly with their power bills and finding immediate placement for victims of house fires are just a few ways he gives back. "I like helping people, a lot of people have helped me and I like to give help back." A 2000 graduate of Pascagoula High School, Dean went on to the University of Southern Mississippi, where he graduated in 2005 in marketing. Dean says he enjoys spending time at the Andrew Johnson Unit of the Boys and Girls Club when he is not working. Dean, who says he is a kid at heart, likes hanging out with the kids and makes daily stops to the Boys and Girls Club to play basketball and flag football with the kids. Dean played free safety on the football field in both high school and college. Dean credits the Boys and Girls Club for helping to raise him and he enjoys going there now to spend time with the children. Dean is a lifelong resident of Jackson County.

■ OCEAN SPRINGS — Karen Teresa Deen, 33, died Wednesday, June 26, 1996, in Pascagoula.

Ms. Deen was born March 7, 1963, in Pascagoula and was a lifelong resident of Jackson County. She was a graduate of Pascagoula High School and received a bachelor of arts degree from Louisiana Tech University in Ruston, La.

Survivors include her mother, Agnes Gossett of Ocean Springs; her father, Donald Deen; two sisters, Lynn Deen, both of Pascagoula, and Tonya Sellers of Ocean Springs; and four brothers, Michael Sellers and Tommy Sellers of Ocean Springs, David Gossett of Jackson and Larry Gossett of Hinderson, Neb.

Visitation will be from 6 to 8 tonight at O'Bryant-O'Keefe Funeral Home in Pascagoula. A service will be at 2 p.m. Saturday at the funeral home chapel, with burial in Machpelah Cemetery in Pascagoula.

 8. Article from "The Early History of Marion County, Mississippi"

Jesse Dean was one of the first white settlers in this section now known as Marion County and came from Tennessee. When he was a young man he was captain of a flat boat and at intervals came down the Mississippi River to New Orleans. On one of these trips Mr Dean decided to send his crew back up the river, and make the trip back to Tennessee overland by way of an old Indian trail. He wanted to see the country and look for a place to locate a settlement. A few settlers had already arrived and one white family lived at the place where Forworth now is. A half days continuous walking brought him to another white family who lived two miles from the place now known as Bunker Hill in Marion County. Another days walk brought him to the next settlement which was at that time Williamsburg in Covington County. Evidently Mr Dean liked the sparsely settled country because months afterwards he married Cynthia Ann Graves and brought her as a bride to settle at Bunker Hill.

Jesse married Cynthia Ann Graves daughter of Robert Hiram Graves and Celia Ann Dickens on 24 Sep 1827 in Williamsburg, , Covington, Mississippi. Cynthia was born on 22 Jul 1807 in Louisiana. She died after 1880 in , Covington, Mississippi. She was buried after 1880 in , Covington, Mississippi.

Fourth Generation

28. Clifton Robert Deen⁷ (William J. Deen, Jesse G. Billy. Deen, Jesse or Jessie) was born^{8,9,10} on 1 Oct 1886 in Bassfield, Jefferson Davis, Mississippi. He died on 2 Dec 1944 in McComb, . Mississippi. He was buried on 4 Dec 1944 in Double Churches Cemetary, MS.

Some how it seems that the Deen name was changed to Dean after 1930 as it has been shown on the more recent documents. The 1920 census has Clifton R. Deen and the 1930 census has Clifton Deen. Standard Certificate of Death, File No. 17641 has C. R. Dean.

It has been told that Clifton was a member of the school board for some 25 years in Bassfield, Jefferson Davis County, MS.

On June 5, 1917 Clifton Robert Dean was registered for World War I military service. He did not go off to war, maybe because of his being 29 years old with wife and children and being a farmer. See attached copy of registration card No. 59.

Clifton married Nancy Estelle Coulter^{11,12,13} daughter of Jesse C Coulter and Mary Victoria Matilda Pearce about 1915 in , Jefferson Davis, Mississippi. Nancy was born on 27 Nov 1893 in Williamsburg, Covington County, MS. She died on 25 Nov 1976 in New Orleans, LA. She was buried on 27 Nov 1976 in Double Churches (Victory) Cemetary, MS.

Nancy Estelle Coulter was born 27 November in Covington County, Mississippi, and died 25 November 1976 in New Orleans, probably Jefferson Parish, Louisiana. About 1924/1925, she married Clifton

Robert Dean, who was born 1 October 1886 in Mississippi and died 22 December 1944. Both were buried in Double Churches Cemetery, Jefferson Davis County, Mississippi.

Nancy and Clifton lived in Jefferson Davis County, Mississippi in 1920 and 1930 and spelled their surname as Deen. They owned their farm without a mortgage, and Clifton did general farming. All the family members could read and write, and the sons attended school. Nancy and Clifton moved from Jefferson Davis County, Mississippi, around 1942/1943 to McComb, Mississippi where Clifton died in 1944.

Her survivors were three sons, Kermit Emerson, Sherman, and Jessie Fleet, all of New Orleans, Louisiana; a brother, Howard Coulter of Bassfield; four sisters, Rosa Thames of Hattiesburg, Ruby Blackburn and Lucy Rutland, both of Bassfield, and Tama Smith of Atlanta, Georgia.

Clifton and Nancy had the following children:

Fifth Generation

33. Kermit Emerson Dean^{14,15} (Clifton Robert Deen, William J. Deen, Jesse G. Billy. Deen, Jesse or Jessie) was born on 16 Dec 1915 in Bassfield, Jefferson Davis, MS. He died on 3 Aug 1984 in East Jefferson General Hospital, Kenner, LA. He was buried on 6 Aug 1984 in Garden of Memories, Metairie, LA.

Daddy went to Bassfield High School and was graduated on 19th of April, 1935. I have his Diplomia in a shadow box in my office.

Daddy said that as a young man he and his brother Sherman were sawing logs in the woods and as he reached down to clear the cross cut saw of grass and debri, his brother pulled the saw and almost cut off his middle and ring fingers. He said that his mother made two little sacks, doused the fingers with coal oil slipped the sacks over each finger and they grew back. he would show you the scars on his fingers and tell the story.

Another story was that he and his brother were at the cotten gin one day when he was bet that he could not lift a bail of cotton. He says that he put his knees against the bail and pulled hard on the bindings, tilting the bail to himself and raised the bail ever so slightly off the ground and won the bet.

Daddy said that he never knew that there was a depression. He said that they raised their own food on their farm and that when they needed floor, sugar and such his mother and father would tell him to get some chickens and go to town and trade them for the staples.

Daddy said that he went into the CCC camp during the depression so his family could receive the monies to get them through the trying times. I have his soap dish and my son Harlin has the straight razor that he took with him to the camp.

Daddy said that he was on the debating team at Bassfield High School and at one time went to Washington, D. C. on one ocassion. Daddy said that he was offered a job with a radio station at one time and lamented about that this might have been a missed opportunity.

Daddy said that he went to Junior College for a short time, but, quit to get married.

Grandmother Dean was none to pleased with the marriage and mother said that she was not to kind to her in the beginning. Mother stayed resentfull for all her life as a result.

Daddy and mother borrowed $300.00 and bought a little place and a mule and tryed farming for a short time, however, their first child was born and the farming did not seem as appealing as moving to New Orleans, Louisiana where his brother Sherman and his wife Dorothy had set up housekeeping and Sherman had a Millwork job at Davis Manufacturing Co. making $12.00/week. So the young couple sold everything and moved to the big city where they stayed all of their married life.

Daddy worked for Davis Mjg. Co. for some 30 yrs. before it sold out to he and two other fellows. Sadly it did not prosper and failed after a few years. Daddy did odd jobs for some time before he found an old acquaintance that needed his experience in the millwork industry, which resulted in his going to work for Trade Mart Homes in New Orleans, LA. Daddy worked there until his death in 1984.

Daddy and mother moved to Kenner, Louisiana in 1950.

Their family grew and produce six children.

Note. About Aunt CASSIE. In my opinion she was a saint. She gave the best years of her life to her family. she was about 15 yrs. old when her mother died. she took care of her brothers & sister & her father Wm. Marion till they were all grown & married. When I was 17 Months old my mother died. She & grandpa took my dad, B. M. Dean. & his 5 children in to live with them in Magnolia Ms. on what is now Regan Rd. After grandpa died in 1925. She kept us till I was 9 yrs. old And dad Married again.

I will always rember her as the only mother I ever had. She was kind & very patient with us. She had us in sunday school & church at 1st Baptist in Magnolia when I was 2 yrs. old. I did not know that until I was 30 yrs. old and I met a mrs mitchell who had me in her sunday school class when I was 2 yrs old. Aunt Cassie instilled what morals and character we have long ago. She was allways there for us. She taught me the abc's from a louisianne coffee can long before I went to school. Dad remarried in 1929 and she married Peter Beaugard Augustus Pinto Cullom. His name is on a plaque in city hall in McComb Now As & alderman P. B. Cullom when city hall was built. At one time he was a merchant on State st. it burned out & has never been rebuilt. He went Broke when the stock market crashed in 29.

News From Movella

Mrs. Jo Ann Shotts 947-3925

Mrs. Bertie

As spry as a cricket and as jolly as an elf, that's Mrs. Bertie Tilley of Movella.

Roberta Dean Tilley was born 99 years ago in Jackson County. Later that part of Jackson County became George County. She has lived in George County all of her life.

In her younger years she was a school teacher. She taught all grades in four month terms. Her schools included Howell, Roberts Chapel and Bell's School of Movella. Bell's School was located across from Mr. Elloitt Tanners place.

One of eleven children, she had 7 sisters and 3 brothers. Mrs. Zonie Finch is her only living sister. Mr. Frank and Mrs. Isabella Tucker Dean were her parents.

In 1909 Mrs. Bertie became the bride of Mr. Albert D. Tilley of George County. They were married in a simple ceremony at Lizzard Hill Church. Good Hope Baptist Church of Agricola is presently located on the site of the old

Lizzard Hill Church.

Six children were born in this family. They were Mrs. Margaritte Tanner and Cecil Tilley of Movella, A.D. Tilley of Agricola and Mrs. Aline Manenatis of Chicago. Inez and Amy Tilley died as youngsters of amebic dysentery. This was a very painful disease of the intestines. Mr. Albert and Mrs. Margaret also had the disease but survived it.

They lived at Evanston, Miss., when first married. Mr. Albert worked in several stores and once worked at Crummins Store in Lucedale. He also worked as a carpenter and in the logging business.

The storm of 1906 was a vivid memory of days gone by. George County was timber country then and most of the virgin pine was blown away.

Happy childhood times included going to the market with her dad, loading the wagon with produce and going to Mobile was exciting for Mrs. Bertie. They would park the wagon at the "wagon yard" and sell with the other farmers. Once she stayed overnight with a family in Mobile while her dad stayed with the wagon.

In 1925 Mr. Albert bought the family a Model T. Ford car. He never felt comfortable driving the car and Mrs. Bertie never learned to drive but Mrs. Margaritte learned to drive and enjoyed the car.

The horse and buggy was transportation for Mrs. Bertie's Trips. She would just hitch up the buggy and away she would go if she needed anything.

Recalling Halley's comet of 75 years ago is not the most exciting thing in Mrs. Bertie's life. "It just didn't inspire me too much," she said. "Just looked like a big ball of fire with a long tail and lasted about an hour. I really don't think much about it to tell you the truth."

Mrs. Bertie and Mr. Albert were married 51 years. They were living in Movella community when Mr. Albert died in 1960. Their old home burned in 1962 and then rebuilt on the same site. Mr. Bertie made her home with A. and Mae Tilley for a number of years and is presently living with Mr. Hurley and Mrs. Margaritte Tanner.

She usually spends Wednesdays with Mr. Cecil and Mrs. Mae Tilley. They live nearby and they share a love of flowers.

A member of Agricola Baptist Church, Mrs. Bertie also attends Movella Baptist for the last few years.

The news is her favorite program on T.V. She doesn't care for the "soap operas" and such. Reading, gardening, flower growing and just being a good homemaker were among her hobbies.

Seven grandchildren and several great-grandchildren often visit at home or call or send cards. Daughter Alfi of Chicago visits as often as possible. They always come down to the flower shop to get flowers for the cemetery.

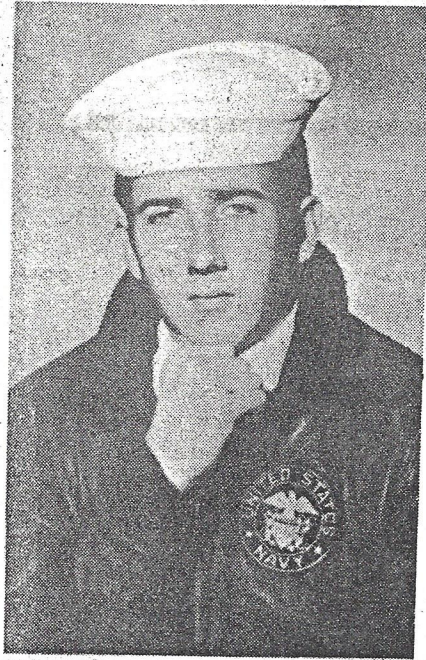

Good health has always been a cherished possession of Mr. Bertie's. She has never taken a dose of medicine from a doctor. All her children were born at home. Her recipe for good health is 2 tablespoons vinegar, 2 tablespoons honey in a glass of water everyday for all of your life. This prevents arthritis and purifies the blood." Minding your own business is another way to stay healthy," says Mrs. Bertie.

When she needs a curl she just goes over to the beauty parlor and gets a hairdo. Good grooming is still a part of her life.

She doesn't travel as she once did. In days gone by she has traveled to California and Chicago. She flew to Chicago once and when asked how she liked it she replied, "Just like any other ride."

On November 13, 1985 Mr. Bertie celebrated her 99th birthday with cake and punch among family and friends. Everyone enjoyed taking and laughing with her. Happy birthday Mrs. Bertie and many more.

DEAN HOME ON LEAVE

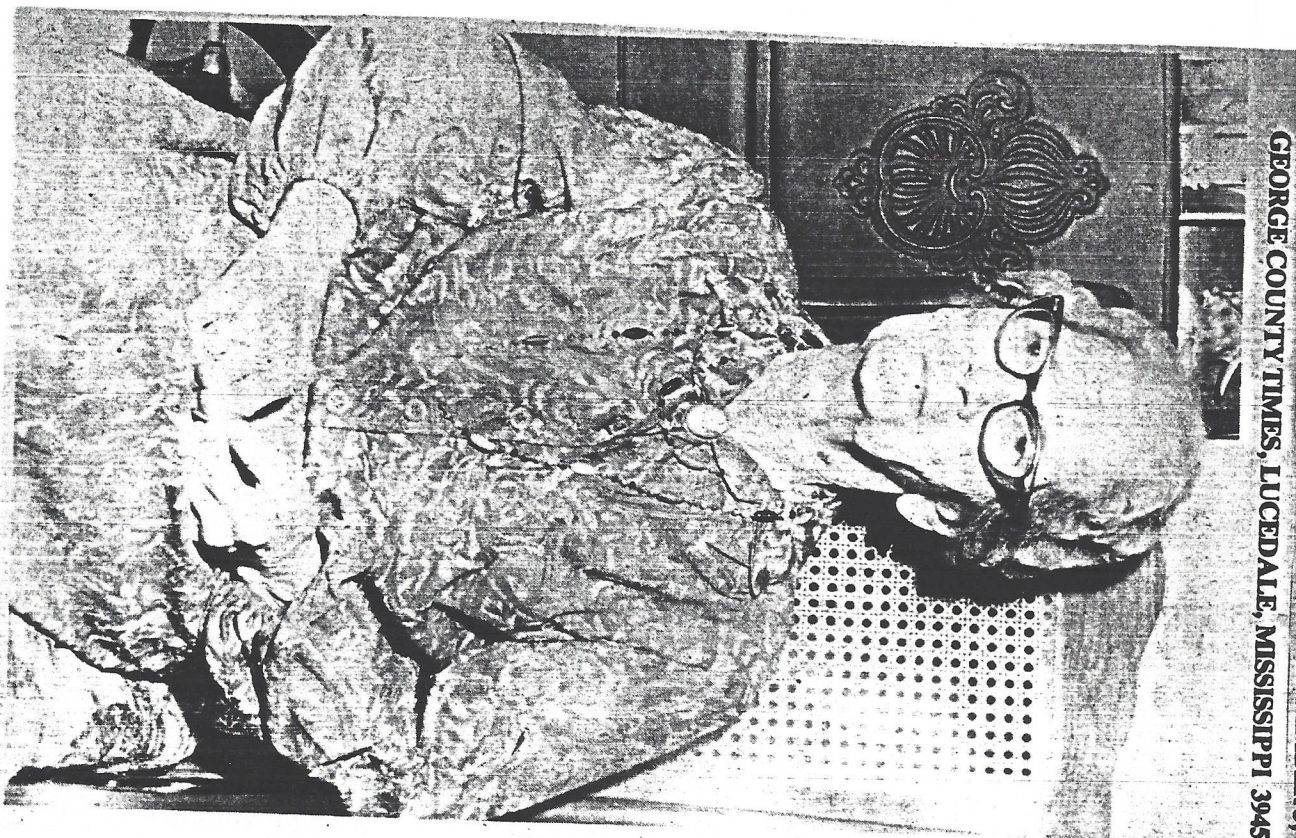

Roger Dale Dean, Hull Maintenance Technician 2nd Class, was visiting family while on leave from duties in the Navy last week. He is the son of Judy and Roger Dean of Pascagoula. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. M.T. Ricks of Big Point and Mrs. Everett Dean of Pascagoula.

Dale is stationed at San Diego, Ca. for the next two years and is hoping to be stationed closer to home after that time. His work on a sub tender limits his options of ports. A sub tender is the ship sent out to make necessary repairs on disabled ships of all types.

As it stands at this time, the U.S./Lybian conflict has no bearings on ships in the West Coast area, but if called to defend his country, it would be considered a honor to him and his family to be able to stand behind the U.S. and help put terrorism in its place or to put a stop to it, which would be an impossibility, considering the time we live in. As the Bible states this is the midnight hour and this action could possibly be the beginning of the end.

Mr. Brogdon enlisted in the 12th Regiment, Georgia Militia, in 1864, and served in the Confederate Army until the end of the war; he was discharged or paroled near Atlanta, April, 1865. Returning home, he moved with his family across the Alapaha River into Clinch County and lived in the 586th militia district (now in Lanier County) for ten or fifteen years. However, most of the family moved back to Berrien County, and Eli (called "Ellie" by the family) Brogdon lived until his death at the age of 93 years. His wife survived several years. They were buried at Riverside Baptist Church in east Berrien County.

BROWN, HUGH.

CAMDEN

Hugh Brown, a Camden county legislator and leader for many years in the early history of the county, was born in Camden County, July 19, 1788, a son of Hugh and Sarah Brown. The elder Brown left South Carolina during the Revolution and refuged to East Florida where he lived until shortly before the birth of the subject, when he moved to Camden county, living there until his death in 1812. Hugh Brown, the subject, was married in Milledgeville during his service in the legislature, to Elizabeth Dean, daughter of William Dean, R.S., and his wife, Jane, of Milledgeville. They were married April 13, 1815. To them were born ten children, viz:

1832, 1833, 1835, 1839, 1842 (election in those days was annually). Senator Brown served as Major, 8th Battalion, Georgia militia, 1825-26. He lived near Jeffersonton, the ante-bellum county-seat of Camden, and died there July 29, 1851. His wife survived and died June 29, 1861. The son, Wm. D. Brown, was the administrator of the estate of his father.

Note: The South Carolina Revolutionary War records show that the elder Brown was a Tory and opposed independence, and that he collaborated with the notorious Tory, Patrick Cunningham, during the war. As a result his property was confiscated; however, after independence was achieved, it was restored to him by resolution of the legislature, March 26, 1784. His lands having been sold as confiscated property, he was paid the value of same, Sept. 10, 1788, after his removal to Georgia.

THE DEAN STORY

by Roy Dean

THE DEAN STORY THOMAS DEAN

Thomas Dean is thought to have been born in Westmoreland or Augusta County, VA circa 1780-1790. In 1811, Thomas was in Warren County, Tennessee, where Thomas Jefferson was born. His wife's name is not known. In 1820 Thomas was located in Bedford County, Tn. and by 1830, he had moved further south to Wilcox County, Alabama. His family, at this time, consisted of one male between 5 and 10, 2 males over 20 and under 30, 1 male over 40 and under 50, 1 female under 5, 2 females over 14 and under 15, 1 female over 40 and under 50.

The Agricultural Census of 1830 shows that Thomas had 10 cultivatable acres, valued at $200.00, farming implements valued at $250.00, 2 horses, 5 milk cows, 2 oxen, 7 other cattle, 50 hogs, all livestock valued at $160.00. Sixty bushels of Indian Corn, 2000 lbs. of rice, 2 bushels of beans and 100 bushels of beans and peas, 1 bushel of Irish Potatoes, 100 bushels of sweet potatoes, $50.00 of orchard produce, 35 lb. of beeswax and honey and value of animals slaughtered, $50.00.

In 1840, Thomas was still in Wilcox County with one male over 10 and under 15, one male over 40 and under 50, probably a brother, one male over 50 and under 60, one female over 10 and under 15, one female over 15 and under 20 and one female over 50 and under 60. There were no Thomas Deans in Alabama in 1850, oral history is that they moved to Texas.

THOMAS JEFFERSON DEAN

Thomas Jefferson Dean was born in Warren County in the hills of Tennessee on June 24, 1811, the son of Thomas Dean. His mother's name is not known. By 1830 Jeff was still living with his father's family in Wilcox County, Alabama. Somewhere between 1830 and 1840 Jeff met and married Jane Walker, who had come to the adjoining county of Clarke, with her father, Purnell Walker.

Purnell was born in Somerset County, Maryland on January 4, 1782, the son of Bill Walker, a Nanticoke Indian. He moved to Georgia and reared his family there. His wife's name is not known at this time. He and his family came to Clarke County, Alabama circa 1830.

In 1840 Jeff and Jane were in Wilcox County with one child under 5. By 1850 Jeff and Jane had moved South into Jackson County, Mississippi, in that part that was to be a part of George County. His was in Section 33 or 34, Township 3 South, Range 5 West. Their children were: Melvina Jane , born Dec. 4, 1837, Francis Parnell, born June 14, 1840, William S., born ? 1844.

Their neighbors, according to the 1850 census were: Purnell Walker, father of Jane, residing with son, James, James Walker, brother of Jane, William Walker, brother of Jane, Valentine (also called Volentine) Tanner whose wife was Martha Walker, niece of Jane and daughter of James. This was in what was later called the Tannertown Community. The Post Office was Americus, near State Highway 63 at Big Cedar Creek.

Family oral history is that Jeff and Jane and family pulled up stakes at some time after this and went to Texas to visit relatives, whose names are not known. Neither is it known how long they stayed in Texas. By 1860 they were back in Jackson County on the NE 1/4 of Section 16-3-5. There they built a double pen log cabin in which they resided the remainder of their lives.

Jeff had the largest field in the community, five acres, in which he grew corn for his horse and vegetables for the table. When the writer visited this site in the 1950's, there was nothing left but two mounds of dirt where the stick and dirt chimneys had been. Water came from a nearby spring, this could not be located. Cooking was done on the fireplace.

He had cows, sheep and hogs that ran loose on the woods. He had a 99 year lease for the entire 16th section. This with a two mile swamp along Dog River, gave him plenty of hunting area. Deer, turkey, quail, coons, possums, squirrels, etc. abounded at that time. These together with Dog River to fish in made a paradise for a woodsman. Bees furnished honey for sweetning. Family oral history is that once Jeff shot a man for stealing his bees.

In the spring the sheep were sheared, the wool washed, carded and spun into threads and knit or woven into clothing. Soap was made by dripping water through oak ashes, mixed with hog lard, boiled in the washpot until it thickened, and turned upside down on a board, and cut into squares; rather strong soap. The writer has seen soap made in this way. Jeff was a smart trader. He bought 80 acres of tax land from the state for $1.89, 40 acres from G. W. Pierce for $20.00 and eighty for $100.00.

By 1860 all the Walkers had gone back to Clarke County, Alabama except Martha who along with Valentine Tanner, populated Tannertown. Melvina Jane Dean (Aunt Viny) was born December 4, 1837 in Clarke County, Alabama, died in Jackson County, Mississippi on March 31, 1889. She never married and lived with relatives all her life. William S. Dean was born in Clarke County, Alabama in 1842, date unknown. Little is known of William. Reportedly, he served in the Confederate Army, but no record of this is available. He was buried in an unmarked grave in the NW 1/4 of SW 1/4 of Section 7-3-5. There is no record of Purnell Dean except the 1850 census, it is not known if he died, stayed in Texas, or what. It is interesting to note that in later years, when members of the family, all of whom were over 90 years, were asked about him, no one remembers anything about him or that there had ever been such a person.

Francis Parnell is treated separately.

FRANCIS PARNELL DEAN

Francis Parnell Dean was born in Clarke County, Alabama June 14, 1840. Sometime before he was 10 years old, his family made their move to Jackson County, Mississippi, which later became part of George County. Here he lived with his family until he was almost 21 years old, when he enlisted in the Confederate Army (His military record is handled separately).

In 1871 Jeff gave Frank 200 acres of land that joined the 16th section where he lived, on the North. He cleared land, built a house and married a wife, not necessarily in that sequence. Thus began the transition from woodsman to settler. He built a six room house of cypress and heart pine. (Later another large room was added), a large kitchen, which by use became the sitting room. It had a fireplace, as did the parlor. These had "stick and dirt" chimneys which were made by framing up the chimney with wood with cross bars, then "rats" were made by mixing clay with the native wire grass and making a roll. These were placed over the cross bars and smoothed down. This made an efficient chimney, but had to be replaced occasionally, as rain would melt the clay. Later Frank and his oldest son, Arthur, made bricks of cement and replaced the old chimneys.

Frank took for his wife Isabelle Tucker, daughter of John S. and Rebecca Ward Tucker. Rebecca was born 3-29-1825 in Jackson County, Mississippi, the daughter of Tarlton Ward and Sarah Childress Ward. Tarleton's father, John Ward III, had come from South Carolina with 3 of his brothers. They drove cattle from South Carolina to Mobile, Alabama and Pensacola, Florida. They crossed the Chattahooche River at Fort Mitchell near present day Columbus, Georgia. The ferryman, Jackson Knight, had a step-daughter who was a Creek Indian maiden, named Nahoka. John Ward fell in love with her and brought her with them on the rest of their journey.

To the union of Frank and Belle were born 11 children:

Arthur Ezra	11-24-1873	4-15-1963
Rebecca Jane	8-18-1875	6-9-1966
Olga Emmett	10-6-1877	1-15-1929
Lucian Roscoe	10-5-1879	6-4-1959
Beulah	2-2-1882	10-30-1888
Maud	4-27-1884	9-25-1900
Robertie	11-3-1886	4-25-1987
Zona	5-11-1889	6-10-1986
Ruth	7-19-1891	5-13-1983
Lester Hardy	5-26-1894	1-11-1975
Celeste	7-26-1899	4-15-1960

Frank and Belle lived in this same house as long as he lived, and later Belle went to live with her daughter, Zona. Belle and the girls had to do the spinning and weaving to make their clothes until later when fabric could be bought in Mobile, Alabama. The writer, as a lad, saw the old loom and spinning wheel in a storage shed. They washed their clothes by a clear branch nearby. Dirty clothes were boiled in a washpot and beaten with a "battling board". This was a board about 2 inches wide, 1 inch thick and 3 feet long, on top of a stump and rinsed in the branch. The writer has seen this stump. Later, there were rubboards. The clothes were spread on bushes to dry. Homemade soap was used.

Frank ran cattle, hogs and sheep in the woods as Jeff had done. He branded his cattle with a figure 12 and marked the ears with a crop and overslit in the left ear, and a swallow fork in the right ear. Hogs were not marked nor were sheep, only their tails docked. This brand was recorded in the George County Courthouse on June 18, 1911, soon after the county was founded.

In the spring, when the cattle got fat, the market cattle were driven to Mobile, Alabama, about 40 miles. A four year old steer sold for about $20.00. Several men would drive together. It was reported that one man drove his turkeys. This seems to be impossible.

In the fall, hogs were fattened on corn and slaughtered. Some for home use (this grandson was afraid to go into the smokehouse because the sausages looked like snakes), and some to send to market. During a freezing time the hogs were killed and hung up overnight to freeze. The wagons were prepared by placing straw in the wagon bed, placing a sheet over this and early the next morning the hogs were placed on this, covered by another sheet and a tarpaulin. This way they would still be frozen when they reached the market in Mobile. Deer and turkey could be done this way too. Hogs could not be driven as cattle were.

Supplies were bought in Mobile and since it took 3 days to get there and back, I day to get there, I to do their trading and get supplies delivered out to the wagon yard and I to get back home. On one occasion, while they were camping at the wagon yard, sitting by the fire and swapping stories, one of the men told about his service in the Confederate Army, how he had fought, got wounded and captured and kept in prison, he looked around and saw Frank, who knew that he had gone to the swamps to avoid conscription, and said, "And Frank, I have told that old lie so many times that sometimes I believe it myself". They were bought in large quantities, a barrel of flour, another of syrup, etc. Later Frank grew sugar cane and made his own syrup. He also grew rice, wheat and oats, as well as corn and vegetables. Honey was used for sweetening. The grain was taken to a nearby water mill where the grain was ground into flour and cornmeal.

Frank greased his wagon wheels with tar made by heating rich pine splinters until the tar ran out of them. Soap was made in the old way. Frank did a lot of hunting and on one of his hunts, he came up on two buck deer who had fought and locked their horns. He slit the throat of one of them, the other shook loose and ran away.

Frank was not a religious man, but neither was he profane. His byword was "doggonit". His voice was gruff and small children were afraid of him. Mr. T.W. Persons, who ran a store at Shipman, said that once Frank brought in a basket of eggs. After counting them, Mr. T. W. asked, "Is there something I can do for you, Uncle Frank?" Frank replied in his gruff voice, "Pay me for the eggs".

The Frank Dean children attended a one-teacher school, run by a Mr. Rogers. He taught to the equivalent of the Eighth Grade, but they were not graded, they progressed individually as they completed each book. The boys called it "Lizard Hill" and it continued by this name even after being moved to a new location. Three of the girls, Bertie, Zona and Ruth, went on to a higher grade boarding school called "Progress" in Leaf, Mississippi. They all became school teachers and taught in Jackson and George County schools. Jane became a nurse, Celeste a secretary, Olga was killed by a car in Mobile, Alabama, and Maud and Buelah died young. Arthur will be treated in another chapter and Roscoe and Lester became farmers.

Arthur married Mary Evelyn Lane, Jane never married, Roscoe married Louvenia Vise, Robertie married Albert Tilley, Zona married Lewis Finch, Ruth married Isaac Ryals, Lester married Lydia Vise and Celeste married Herbert Carpenter.

One fall Frank rode his horse to Scranton, now Pascagoula, to pay his taxes. He came back, grumbling because his taxes were almost $16.00, near the price of a four year old steer. This on 200 acres of land and the entire 16th section.

The Deans attended Shipman Methodist Church along with their cousins, the Cornelius Wards, and others. The girls rode in the buggy behind old "Bob" and the boys rode their horses. This was one of the pioneer churches in this area and was about seven miles away. The Dean family was a long lived family, with four of the girls living past 90 and one to 100. All men past 80. Grandma Tucker lived to be 92. She was remembered by the family as smoking a corncob pipe with a long reed stem.

All of the former mentioned ancestors except William, as noted, along with Frank and Belle are buried in the Dean family cemetery in the NW 1/4 of SE 1/4 of Section 9-3-5 George County, Mississippi. Arthur, Roscoe, Lester and Robertie and their spouses, and Jane and Ruth, are buried in Agricola cemetery. Zona and Lewis in Finch Cemetery in SE 1/4 of SE 1/4 Section 4-3-5, Celeste and Herbert in a Perpetual Care Cemetery in Mobile and Olga, Maud and Beulah are buried in the Dean Family Cemetery.

FRANK DEAN - MILITARY

Francis Dean enlisted in the Confederate States Army June 8, 1861 at Mobile, Alabama. He served in Company I, 12th Alabama Infantry. This unit fought in 6 campaigns and 23 battles with the Army of Northern Virginia. According to oral history, he was a scout for his outfit and on one occasion, was assigned to locate a sniper that had pinned down his outfit. This he did and shot him out of a tree. He said the man's new boots just fit him. Asked later at home, if he killed the man, he replied, "Dunno, there was a lot of shooting them days".

He was in the General Hospital in Richmond, Virginia, for unknown reasons, February 25th and 26th, 1864. He was wounded at the battle of Monocacy, the knuckle of his left wrist was shot off by a minie ball. He was admitted to the General Hospital, Charlottesville, Virginia on July 26, 1864 and returned to duty on September 15th, 1864. He was captured near Petersburg, Virginia March 25th, 1865 by the Army of the Potomac. He was imprisoned in Fort Lookout, Maryland from March 31, 1865 until May 13, 1865. He was released by taking the oath, evidently this was the oath of allegiance to the United States. He evidently was ferried to Hampton Roads, Virginia to make his way home as best he could. Oral history is that when he arrived home, Jeff was burning a big pile of brush, and Frank walked up and heaved his rifle upon the pile of brush. He had enough of war.

ARTHUR EZRA DEAN

Arthur Ezra Dean was born in Jackson County, Mississippi November 24, 1871 the son of Francil Parnell and Isabelle Tucker Dean. Being the oldest child, he was the main "helper" around the farm and in the woods with the cattle, sheep and hogs, all of which ran freely in the woods all year long.

There was little underbrush along the branches and they were full of reed cane. This cane did not freeze in winter and the cattle grazed on it. The hogs ate acorns, pine mast and other seeds, and rooted in the ground for herbs and worms.

They cut logs and hauled them on eight wheeled wagons pulled by four yoke of oxen to Dog River where they were made into rafts. When the river rose, the rafts were floated down the river to Moss Point to the sawmills. It took about three days to make the trip. A boom of logs stretched across the river stopped the logs from floating out into the Gulf. The rafters either sold their gear and walked home or had someone meet them with a wagon at Moss Point.

The most memorable event of Arthur's life as a young man was a trip to the World's Fair at Saint Louis, MO in 1904. In 1905 Arthur and Oscar Ward bought 40 acres of land (NW 1/4 of NE 1/4 section 9-3-5) adjoining Frank's land. This was covered with Virgin Pine trees. On this and the E 1/2 of NE 1/4 of Frank's land they developed a turpentine operation complete with still commissary and workers quarters.

Turpentine was obtained by scraping a place on a pine tree down to the wood and chopping a deep cut with a long bladed axe at the bottom of this "face" to catch the sap as it ran down the tree. Later a steel cup was used instead of the cut. The gum turpentine was taken in barrels to the still where the spirits were removed by distilling. Water for the still came in a wooden flume from a spring about 3/4 of a mile or more away. The spirits were put in barrels and hauled to the railroad at Shipman and shipped to market in Mobile, Alabama. There was no market for the dross or rosin at this time so it was poured out into pits. During World War I this was dug and used to make gunpowder. Now the rosin is worth more to make plastics, then the spirits.

Arthur's sister, Jane, worked in the commissary and kept the post office. It was named Howell, Mississippi. It is not known why the name was given as the Howells lived across Dog River.

The hurricane of 1906 blew all the pine timber down which put an end to the turpentine operation. Arthur stated that he could walk all over the country just stepping from tree to tree and never have to step on the ground. From the downed timber that had blown down logs were cut and the rest was left to rot. There was very little sap on it and this soon rotted and left the heart. This was called "light wood". It was used for firewood and burned with such a bright light that you could read by it. The writer has studied lessons by such a fire. It was warmer there than at a table with a lamp.

Just like Abraham Lincoln, Ha! The stumps of these trees were called "clay roots" because of the amount of clay that came up with them when they blew over. These were later pushed up with bulldozers and used for plastics.

To use this timber, Arthur and Oscar built a sawmill. With this mill, they cut square timber. This was the largest size timber, square on all four sides that could be cut from a log. This too was rafted and floated to Moss Point. After all the timber that was down had been cut, the mill had to be closed.

Sometime after this, Arthur attended a business college in Nashville, TN and when he returned home, he worked for G.M.Luce in his operations at Basin.

When George County was formed in 1910 of Township 1 South of Greene County and Townships 2 South and 3 South from Jackson County, Arthur was appointed by Governor Noel to the office of Circuit Clerk, where he served until new officers were elected. The offices of Circuit Clerk and Chancery Clerk were combined and in the election of 1910, E.V.McKay was elected to this office. In the election of 1910, Murdock Roberts was elected Sheriff and Arthur was his deputy until

Mr. Roberts resigned for business reasons, when Arthur was appointed to serve the remainder of Mr. Roberts' term. In the election of 1911 Arthur was elected to the office of Sheriff and Tax Collector and served this term and another beginning in 1920.

Upon leaving office after his first term, Arthur was asked about what he was going to do. He answered that he was going back to the farm and raise some peas and corn and a boy now and then and he did, three of them.

While serving as Sheriff, Arthur lived across the street from the SW corner of the courtyard on Lots 8 & 9 Div. B. , 1st addition to Town of Lucedale, which he purchased from I.H.Weaver.

In Lucedale, he met Mary Evelyn Lane, the daughter of Jesse W. Lane and Mary Ann Mills Lane. Evie was born July 1st, 1884, in Washington County, Ala. and had moved in 1900 to Jackson County, a part of which later became George County, with her family.

Once before some social event in Lucedale, Evie told some of her friends that if that bald headed old bachelor came to the party, she was going to twist his mustache. Evidently he did and she did, as they were married March 23, 1913.

About 50 years later, Hardy Davis, one of Arthur's deputies, related to me that one Sunday afternoon Arthur rented a horse and buggy to take a certain young lady for a ride. Hardy told him that if he would buy that horse and buggy, he would be married within a year, but it took a little longer, as Arthur bought a buggy in June, 1911.

Evie had taken a correspondence course in Nursing and assisted the Doctors, which she continued to do, after her children were grown, at intervals to a later date, mostly with mothers with new babies.

To Arthur and Evie were born three sons:

Jesse Parnell	4-8-14	5-11-91
Arthur Edwin	4-12-16	10-13-72
Lester Leroy	10-10-19	-----

J.P. was named for his two grandfathers, Jesse William Lane and Francis Parnell Dean. Edwin was named for his father and Ollin Edwin Ward, one of Arthur's Deputies. Roy was named for his father's youngest brother, Lester Hardy Dean, and his mother's youngest brother Joseph Leroy Lane. Had Roy been a girl, he would have been named Mary Isabel after his grandmother Lane and grandmother Dean.

Neither Arthur nor Evie had a formal education past the eighth grade, as that was as far as the public schools taught. Though no graded classes were taught, each student moved up as they finished each book. Both had some vocational training as noted. They were determined that their sons got as much education as possible. All three boys graduated from Agricola High School and later received further education.

J.P. received a degree, after a hitch in the navy in WW II, in Agricultural Education at Mississippi State University and taught Vo-Ag in Arkadelphia, Arkansas High School for 32 years.

Edwin joined the navy at age 17 and rose through the ranks to Lieutenant, J.G. He attended the Naval Academy and received a B.A. in Math. After receiving a discharge from the navy, he attended the University of Mississippi and received a M.A. in Math. He taught in "Ole Miss" and Delta State University until his untimely death.

Roy attended Gulf Radio School in New Orleans, LA and received a First Class Radio Operator's license and a Second Class Radio Telegraph License from the Federal Communications Commission. He worked in Radio for about 10 years, including several years as Radio Officer in the Merchant Marines. He crossed the Atlantic Ocean 12 times, 8 times during WW II in convoy, with these trips and others in the Pacific and Caribbean, he was able to visit 8 foreign countries. In 1951, Roy came ashore and ran in the County Election for Tax Assessor and was successful. He took office in 1952 and continued in this office and the combination with Tax Collector until 1976.

Arthur and Evie sacrificed in order for their boys to have the necessary books and materials. The school did not furnish either books or lunches. Lunches were taken to school wrapped in paper bags or newspaper and eaten at recess. Arthur even bought an "Aladdin" lamp, which gave off a bright soft light so the boys could see better to get up their homework. He served on the Board of Trustees for Agricola School for many years and as President of the Board, signed J.P. and Edwin's diplomas. Roy's was signed by Zachary Taylor McLemore.

Arthur was not a successful farmer, moneywise. His success was in providing a good living for his family with few luxuries. Though he worked hard, there always seemed to be something in nature to ruin his crop, boll weevils in the cotton, blight in the sugar cane, black rot in the sweet potatoes, a late freeze on the English Peas, and a sandstorm on the string beans. Seed and fertilizer were so high that he could not afford enough to make a full crop. Produce that he raised was cheap, 25 cents for a gallon of syrup or a bushel of sweet potatoes, $1.00 per hundred for shelled corn, and 10 cents per dozen for eggs. Cotton was 10 cents per pound. He always made a good garden of butter beans, English peas, crowder peas, turnips, okra, strawberries, cabbage, collards, onions, Irish potatoes, green beans, cucumbers and watermelons. Huckleberries were picked in Dog River Swamp in May and pears, peaches and figs on the farm for pies, jam and jelly. These with homemade syrup, cornbread, milk from a couple of cows, meat from hogs butchered on the farm, left little to be purchased from the "Rolling Store". Evie swapped eggs for salt, sugar, flour, etc.

She set "Broody Hens" on 15 eggs. She swapped "Settings of eggs with neighbors and when these hatched, they were raised in separate pens. Seldom was there a time in the summer that there was not fryers available for "chicken every Sunday". The writer's mouth waters as he thinks of those Sunday dinners of fried chicken, butter beans, corn on the cob, okra and cornbread with strawberries annointed with thick Jersey cream for dessert.

Since Roy was the youngest of the boys and there were only two mules and two "Georgia Stock" plows, he was relegated to the job of K.P. Thus he had to bring in stove wood, pump and bring water to the kitchen, pump water for two mules, 5 or 6 cows, a dozen or so hogs, and carry cool water to those working in the fields, help gather and prepare vegetables for the table and to can. As the older boys graduated from High School and left home, he was promoted to "Plowboy".

Life was good on the farm, though the work was hard and there were few luxuries. The necessities were abundant and there was time to relax, visit with the neighbors, roam the woods, go fishing, play ball and make ice cream on Saturday night. Since "Dog River" was only about 3/4 mile away, much time was spent there when the crops were laid by in the summer. The river was an ideal setting for "4th of July" picnics with other families.

Discipline was no problem as Arthur had a razor strap and peach tree limbs were plentiful. Once Evie used the gallberry sprout broom that she swept the yard clean with.

John Bell came to our farm in the spring of 1930. He had worked for Arthur in the turpentine woods some 25 to 30 years before, but now he was old and ailing, and not able to work on a job. He proposed that he work for his keep. Arthur could see that he was not able to work, but since he had been a good hand, he fixed him some comfortable quarters, oddly this was within 100 yards of where his "Shanty" had been before. John was a wonder to us boys, as we had never been associated with a black man before, and his tales were as good as those of Uncle Remus. John's needs were few above the three necessities, a little Prince Albert tobacco and OCB paper. If the OCB's ran out, he would sometimes use corn shucks, though this was not very satisfactory.

With regular good meals and some dosing by Mrs. Dean, John's health improved so that he was able to do light work around the garden and help gather and prepare the vegetables for the table, and to can.

He liked these fresh vegetables, especially the watermelons and boiled peanuts. When cotton picking time came, he rigged a shoulder strap to a corn sack and went into the field with the rest of us. Because of his age and poor health, he was not able to stand the heat of the day, so he retired to the shade until late in the afternoon. When "weighing up" time came, John had 4 or 5 pounds. Edwin asked, "Is that all you picked John?" John exploded, "Yeah boy! What do you think I am, lightning!?"

As winter came on, John began to want to go to some of his kinfolks, so Arthur borrowed his brother's model T and he and J.P. took him to his nephew's house in Grand Bay, Alabama.

We never heard anything else of John, but his retort to Edwin's question became the favorite response of us boys when chided for being slow at a task and still comes to mind occasionally, after 71 years.

Arthur had no first cousins, as his mother was an only child and his father was the only one of his family to have children. His sister, Ruth, who lived in Jackson, and Jane, who lived in Mobile, made annual visits and stayed a few days. Most of the remainder of his family lived in the area. Evie's brother Joe, came after he was discharged from the army in 1918, and helped Arthur make a crop, and several years later, during the depression, came with his family and stayed a few months. Evie's brother, Theo, lived with us several years. Some of her nieces and nephews would come in the summer and stay for a week or so.

Evie never turned a "tramp", as we called them, away from her kitchen door without feeding them. One of them must have made the proverbial "mark on the gate", as we had many of them.

In 1937, Arthur, with 2 "plowboys" gone from home and Roy wanting to go, gave up the struggle to keep the farm, and moved to Agricola. Here he worked at whatever was available. At age 75, he was still able to climb a ladder to the roof of a house with a bundle of shingles on his shoulder. Evie boarded school teachers and sometimes fixed lunches for the store keepers across the highway. Arthur was able to mow the yard and work a big garden until not long before he died.

J.D., a nephew, accused him of killing all the grass in the garden, and then turning the clods of dirt looking for seed. He had a stroke one Sunday afternoon and died a week later on Easter Sunday, 1963, at age 89. He had never been a patient in a hospital before.

Arthur and Evie were both devoted Christians. Arthur was a deacon in Agricola Baptist Church and served as chairman for years. Evie was a member of the Missionary Society and served as President many times. After moving to Agricola, they were able to attend church services more often as the church building was only about 150 yards away. They had no car, so before moving, they had to walk about 3 miles or ride in a mule wagon.

Many times, during "Protracted Meeting" time, the visiting preacher would stay at our house. They had a big spare room and Evie was a good cook. They liked this and so did we boys, for we not only had a little better fare at the table, but we got to ride in an automobile to church.

After Arthur died, Evie moved into the trailer that Roy and Beth had lived in until they built their house. She had good health until she had a couple of falls and broke a leg once and a hip once. She had to move to a nursing home and resided there until her death November 9, 1979. Both of them and J.P. and Claudine are buried in Agricola Cemetery. Edwin and Maria are buried in St. Mary's Cemetery in Norfolk, Virginia. Grandpa Jesse Lane and Grandmother Mary Ann Lane, are buried in Magnolia Cemetery in Lucedale, MS. Roy and Beth are to be buried in Agricola Cemetery.
